PLANS FOR 73 MORE HOMES

Sports pitches included in plans for Drayton development

Half a century of life-saving

ABINGDON fire station celebrated 50 years since it opened on Ock Street by hosting an open day on Saturday.

The history of the fire service in Abingdon was shown on display boards at the station, while visitors could also try their hand at some of the duties fire fighters are expected to do.

A bun throwing was also held to mark the occasion.

• See page 5 for the full story

AN APPLICATION to build 73 homes in Drayton has been met with concerns over an increase in traffic in south Abingdon.

Planning developers WYG applied for a screening opinion to Vale of White Horse District Council last month to build the homes, along with sports pitches and a pavilion, in Abingdon Road.

The screening opinion allows the developer to ask the council if they need to provide an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), ahead of submitting the full application at a later date.

It comes as there is still uncertainty over Taylor Wimpey's proposed 159-home development further down the same road - known as Drayton Road in Abingdon.

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And south Abingdon county councillor Neil Fawcett has voiced his concerns about traffic build-up from the Drayton development.

He said: "I think it will probably make the position on Drayton Road slightly worse, as any development in Drayton would."

"Long term we need the county council to sort out the full Lodge Hill junction, which would reduce the amount of traffic that travels from north Abingdon to the south, adding to the congestion on Marcham Road."

But Drayton district councillor Richard Webber was more optimistic about the proposed development, and hoped that traffic wouldn't be too big a problem.

He said: "This development is in its early stages but it is part of the Drayton Neighbourhood Plan.

"We worked incredibly hard on that to make sure that as much of any traffic generated if possible is avoided."

"By the time the houses are delivered, the new hamburger roundabout at Milton Interchange we hope will be up and running, and the county council are hoping that will direct an awful lot of traffic that way rather than into Abingdon."

Cllr Webber was also pleased with the provision for sports facilities in the planned development.

He added: "Drayton has one field, and that's the only sporting facility it has had for the last 50-odd years."

"We've been desperate for sporting facilities, and suddenly there's three football pitches, a cricket pitch and a nice pavilion. There's a lot I like about it."

Developers WYG declined to comment.

Millions pouring in for Oxford redevelopments

• Oxford Regeneration project officer Louise O'Hanlon at the exhibition

THE future of Oxford was showcased to residents as details of the city's biggest multi-million pound projects were unveiled.

Redevelopments of Oxford Station to the tune of £75m, the £500million Westgate centre, £5.5m Frideswide Square, Northern Gateway, Barton, Jericho boatyard and Oxpens were among the plans on display on Friday and Saturday.

More than 20 information boards with designs architect's drawings and a 3D visual of the station revamp were presented in Westgate shopping centre.

The exhibition showed the various projects in the pipeline for the city, which are at different stages of planning.

It was put on by Oxford Regeneration – a joint venture by Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council.

Project support officer Louise O'Hanlon said: "The point of the showcase is to reveal the breadth of projects we are undertaking in the city

"It is about how dynamic regeneration could be for Oxford and what the future could hold for the city.

"The feedback has been generally very positive. I think everybody is very excited. People want it to happen, they just want it to happen now – and we are trying to make it happen."

The first of the projects to be undertaken is the £5.5 redevelopment of Frideswide Square – due to start in the next few months.

The square – which is currently controlled by traffic lights – will be turned into a series of three roundabouts and boulevards.

While work on the Westgate redevelopment with a John Lewis anchor store is due to start next year.

Work to prepare a temporary car park at Oxpens Road to replace the Westgate car park has already begun.

Matthew Cook, 22, from Headington, Oxford Brookes University, said: "I think the station in particular is quite a major thing.

"I was quite shocked by the gateway into Oxford at the station when I first came here and I think the new plans address Frideswide Square a lot better.

"And I think putting the extra floor on the station so people can see over the Oxford skyline looks really good.

"It gives a better impression of where most people will be going and where the centre of Oxford is."

A masterplan for a new Oxford Station was unveiled in July – to start in 2017.

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Ian Huds-peth, said: "Projects across the city are creating exceptional places where people can live, work and relax."

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price added: "Regeneration projects in the city hold the key to future economic growth.

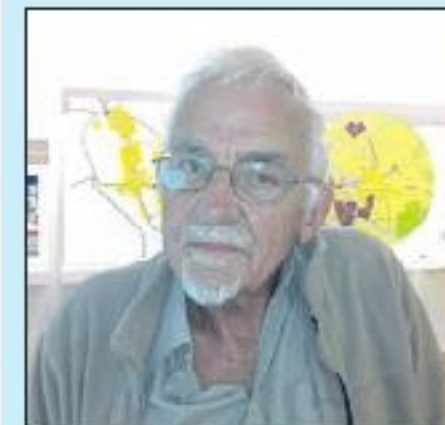

"We are working in the private and public sectors to build vibrant new places which deliver high quality buildings and spaces with a mix of uses, while making sure the city retains its unique character."

| Project | Overview | Cost | Start date |
|--------------------------|--|---------|---------------|
| Westgate Shopping Centre | Overhaul of Westgate shopping centre with new shops, restaurants and a cinema expanded into four different buildings, set in a mix of covered streets, arcades, lanes and squares. John Lewis confirmed and other big name stores to be announced. New underground car park and three public squares | £500m | 2015 |
| Frideswide Square | The square, currently controlled by traffic lights, will be turned into a series of three roundabouts and boulevards | £5.5m | February 2015 |
| Oxford Station | Increase the number of platforms from three to five, a new station building built over the railway lines with view of Oxford skyline and connected to a bus station and multi-storey car park on the other side of Botley Road by bridge | £75m | Expected 2017 |
| Barton | New 885-home Barton Park development west of current homes across 90 acres with a community hub comprising a primary school, community facilities, a sports pavilion and recreation land | Unknown | Expected 2015 |
| Oxpens | A developer is yet to be secured but the site is expected to include houses and flats, offices, research and development space, a hotel and public square by the ice rink in Oxpens Road with Oxpens Meadow preserved. | Unknown | Expected 2016 |
| Northern Gateway | Development of land either side of the A44 next to Pear Tree Roundabout with 500 homes, a hotel, business park, improvements to Wolvercote and Cutteslowe roundabouts and more parking spaces at Pear Tree Park and Ride | Unknown | Unknown |
| Jericho boatyard | Redevelopment of Castle Mill Boatyard with a new public square from St Barnabas Church to the waterfront, new community centre, housing and facilities for canal boat owners. | £20m | Unknown |

Vox Box

Jessica Tubb, from Headington, an Oxford Brookes University student studying a masters in urban design: "Some of my fellow students who had not visited Oxford before said it could have been any city in the UK when they arrived at the station and it wasn't clear how to get to the city centre. "They had looked at Oxford on the internet but couldn't associate what they had seen with where they were. "They have focused a lot on the station and Frideswide Square but they also need to concentrate on the roads that lead to the city centre – Park End Street and Hythe Bridge Street – those streets are quite uninviting at the moment. They don't have shop fronts or cafés."

Michael Gotch, Oxford city councillor and architect: "I'm intrigued to see whether Frideswide Square will work. I know some people think the current plans won't, but the new Westgate centre is going to be top class.

"The showcase is to show the public at large what is going on. The only other thing is I think this exhibition should be taken around Oxford – Blackbird Leys, Risinghurst, and everywhere else for the residents who can't get to Oxford to see the plans over these two days."

Osney resident David Frudd: "There has obviously been a lot that has gone into the designs and planning. "It is quite hard to imagine all of these things and where they are. "But it is all extremely exciting and I am particularly interested in plans for the new station. "And I cycle a lot so Botley Road and The Plain roundabout are pretty hair-raising so it would be good for them to change."

A34 revamp on cards and hundreds of homes

LAND for the building of a £13million diamond interchange at Lodge Hill has been safeguarded as part of the district council's latest local plan.

Vale of White Horse District Council is expected to publish the latest version of its Local Plan 2031 on November 7 and hope to submit it by February next year.

And within the plan is the proposal for an A34 diamond interchange at Lodge Hill, which currently only allows motorists to enter the A34 northbound and exit southbound.

The Abingdon and Oxford Fringe Sub-Area has also been allocated with 1,990 new homes by 2031.

Vale leader Matthew Barber said he was confident that government funding can be secured for the Lodge Hill interchange, which will also be financed by developers money and the Local Enterprise Partnership.

He said: "There has long been a campaign for it and we have included it in the local plan.

"The land is safeguarded for it and it will be on our infrastructure list and things are looking good to get some funding for it."

Abingdon Town Council leader and district councillor, Sandy Lovatt, added: "What we have now got for Lodge Hill is a definite plan for funding it."

Many changes have been made to the Vale's local plan, including the housing allocation for the Abingdon area.

Sites at North Radley, East Wootton, South Marcham, South Drayton and East Hanney, which are all within the Abingdon and Oxford Fringe Sub Area, have been removed.

But the North Abingdon site off Dunmore Road has been increased to 800 dwellings - 390 more than previously planned

- while a site north-west of the town proposing 200 homes also remains.

Cllr Lovatt said: "The answer is where else do you put the houses if you don't put them there (North Abingdon).

"Personally, I am not overjoyed by the numbers.

"I did not come in to start plastering houses all over our countryside but I do understand that as a council we have a duty to make provisions.

"The other point is that we have got to sort out getting out onto the Dunmore Road from the various housing estates.

"That is a problem that I think people would much rather have solved than worrying about whether or not we're dealing with somebody's prime view."

Cllr Barber added: "Clearly an awful lot of what we proposed the first time and what we're proposing now is still unpalatable to a lot of people.

"We recognise that there are some very difficult choices that have to be made."

The Vale's local plan has already been through one round of consultation and when councillors meet on October 15, the latest version is expected to be approved for publication.

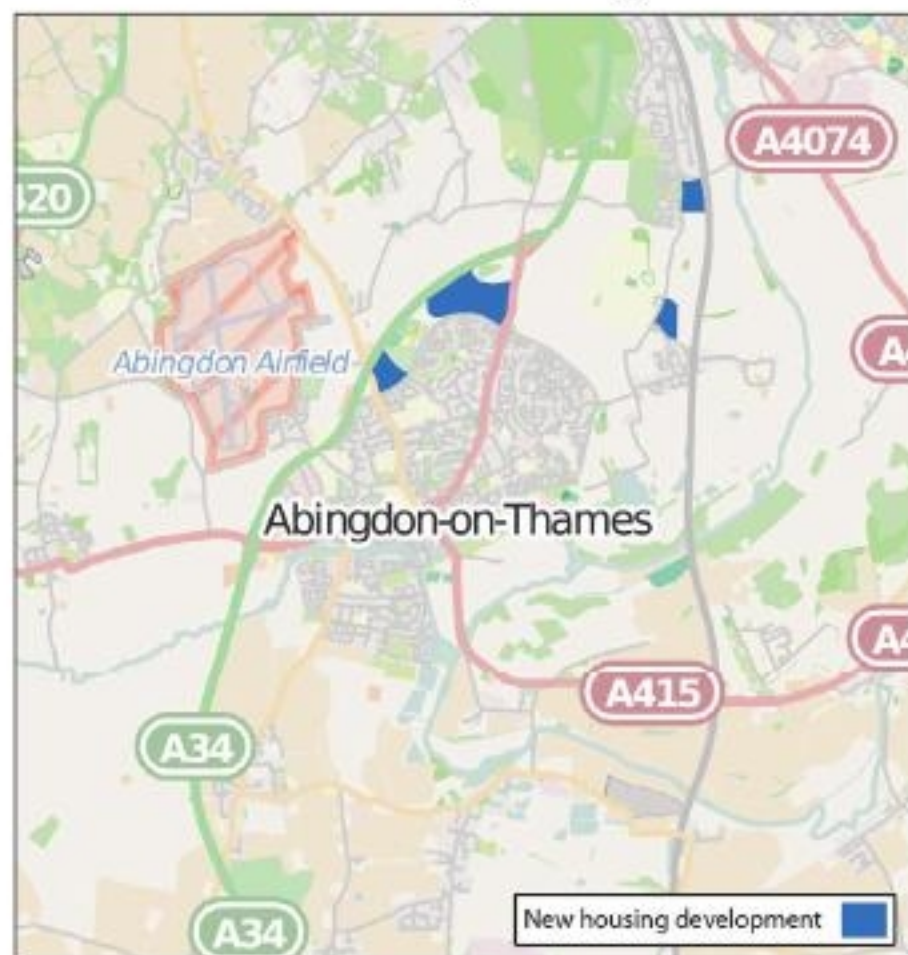

This will give the public and statutory consultees another opportunity to comment and feedback will be passed on to the planning inspector who will examine the plan.

Cllr Barber added: "We are confident that there is not a need for major changes that would delay the plans."

Fire station marks 50 years with open day

Road blocks in place after signs snubbed

WATER filled barriers were installed to block drivers using a country lane near Wantage last week.

They were fitted at Cow Lane in Denchworth to stop people using the lane as a through-route during road closures at Challow Bridge.

Network Rail is raising the height of the A417 bridge in Challow Road to install electric wires over the train line below.

The project is part of the £2billion electrification of the Great Western Mainline.

Residents raised the concerns that the lane is unsuitable for the volume of traffic and drivers were ignoring road closure signs.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for highways David Nimmo Smith said: "This is really our last resort but unfortunately the behaviour of some motorists has left us with no choice but to put up a physical barrier.

"This is a minor route used regularly by pedestrians and horse riders, and it just isn't safe as a rush-hour diversion for large numbers of vehicles.

"But people aren't taking heed of the signs, so we're having to stop them by other means."

An official diversion takes drivers along the A420, A415 and A338.

Challow Road shut on September 6 and is due to reopen in December when bridge works finish.

ABINGDON fire station celebrated its 50th anniversary in style on Saturday with an open day and bun throwing at the Ock Street site.

Hundreds of people visited the station throughout the day, with a range of activities on offer including climbing up a firefighter's ladder and operating a hose.

Boards documenting the history of the fire service in Abingdon were also on display.

• Abingdon fire station's open day and (inset) mayor Angela Lawrence throwing buns

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

And Abingdon's mayor Angela Lawrence unveiled a plaque commemorating the anniversary, as well as leading the bun throwing from the top of the station's tower.

"It was great," said Cllr Lawrence. "Being a town councillor I'm an experienced bun thrower, and that was great fun."

"What was really good was they laid out the history of the fire service in Abingdon, and you learned some interesting facts."

Christian Orr, a Redwatch firefighter who works in Abingdon, was also pleased with how the open day went.

He said: "It was really brilliant. Hundreds of people turned up for the open day, which charted the history of Abingdon fire station from where it used to be in old Bury Street to when it first opened here in 1964."

David Etheridge, chief fire officer for Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service, added: "Our fire stations play an integral part in communities."

"It was wonderful to see so many locals take the opportunity to meet their fire crews during Abingdon's open day."

"It was excellent that the age-old Abingdon tradition of bun throwing happened to help mark the contribution the fire station has made to the town."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Flory feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated." So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Protestor arrested at Tory conference

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A FATHER who spent over a month camped outside David Cameron's constituency office in Witney protesting over family rights was arrested at the Conservative party conference on Sunday.

Chris Tompson, 38, from Ashton-under-Lyne near Manchester, was arrested for breaching the peace outside the International Convention Centre (ICC) in Birmingham.

He had been heckling Conservative delegates using a megaphone, and was arrested for doing so from private property.

Mr Tompson was later charged and appeared before Birmingham Magistrates' Court on Monday, before being released on bail to return on October 10.

He was protesting as part of his campaign group Greater Manchester Parents Protesting alongside others from New Fathers-4-Justice.

A New Fathers-4-Justice spokesman said: "Protestor Chris Tompson has been arrested at the Tory conference

• Chris Tompson protesting in Witney earlier this year and (inset) at the Conservative party conference in Birmingham for using a megaphone aimed at Conservative delegates.

"Chris of Greater Manchester Parents Protesting was with other protestors outside the ICC. No jail for wanting to be a dad!"

Writing on Facebook, Mr Tompson said he is continuing to protest peacefully in Birmingham following his arrest.

He added that he came across the Prime Minister twice on Tuesday, and that he was planning on returning to Witney High Street in the future.

Mr Tompson gained notoriety in Witney after spending 50 days in West Oxfordshire, campaigning outside Mr Cameron's home in Dean and then on Witney High Street from June 16 to July 25.

He was speaking out against family courts and social services who he claims deny parents access to their children.

Top honour for young engineer

AN ABINGDON student has been named as one of the UK's brightest young engineers after winning a prestigious scholarship from the Institution of Mechanical Engineers.

Alastair Gregory, from St John's Road, won the institution's Postgraduate Research Scholarship Award, which will contribute £6,500 a year towards his PhD at the University of Cambridge.

Only 14 scholarships were presented to students this year at a ceremony at the institution's headquarters in London on September 24.

Matthew Shields, of Northway in Oxford, and Liam Starrett, of Blenheim Drive in Bicester, were also among the recipients.

Mark Hunt, president of the institution, said: "Alastair, Matthew and Liam have proven themselves to be among the best young engineers in the UK."

First taste of battle for town residents

WANTAGE was taken back in time in a clash of swords and shields as 200 Viking and Anglo Saxon battled for victory in the town's park last weekend.

Thousands of residents welcomed the invaders who set up camp in Manor Road Park to mark King Alfred's birth in Wantage in 849.

Children had a chance to seize a sword and shield to prepare for battle over 1,000 on from King Alfred's fight to defend his land against Viking attack.

Among those ready for battle was eight-year-old Dawid Presley from Wantage.

Mum Sylwia Presley said: "When we were walking around in the evening it felt like we had gone back in time."

"It was fun to see lots of Vikings wandering around Wantage."

"My son loved it - he spent four or five hours there, he was talking

By Katriona Ormiston

katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk to the re-enactors dressed up as Vikings about what their lifestyle would have been like, he learnt a lot."

The 80 living history tents on Saturday and Sunday gave residents the chance to see how people would have lived and worked.

The free celebrations were revived last year by Mayor of Wantage Fiona Roper as Alfred's Day.

Alfred is the only English monarch to be dubbed "The Great" after defending his kingdom from Viking attack and styled himself as the first King of the Anglo Saxons.

King Alfred's Battle of Ashdown against the Danes in 871 was played out by hundreds of re-enactors.

Mayor of Wantage Fiona Roper

said: "It was a way of bringing history to life,

"There was a huge Saxon village which you could wander around which was brilliant

"And because there were so many re-enactors the battles were really spectacular.

"There were thousands of people and the weather was fantastic.

"I hope it will continue as a Wantage tradition."

Last year Alfred's Day was held on October 26, the day of a UK wide Alfred's Feast Day.

But the weekend was pulled forward a month for better weather.

Cllr Roper said she hopes next year's Mayor of Wantage will carry on the tradition.

MP Vaizey hopes Milton Park job fair next month will 'benefit everyone'

DIDCOT MP Ed Vaizey has launched a job fair to help his constituents find employment in and around south Oxfordshire.

In collaboration with development company MEPC and the Didcot Jobcentre Plus team, an event has been set up for employees and job seekers to meet and discuss future prospects.

The fair will take place at the Innovation Centre, Milton Park, on November 14 from 10am to 2pm.

Mr Vaizey said he hopes it can benefit everyone.

He added: "I know that employment levels in the local area are very good, so some employers struggle to find the right staff, while some local people can't quite find the right job for them."

"By bringing the two together with the generous support of MEPC as well as the professional assistance of the Job Centre Plus, I hope we are able to help everyone involved."

Philip Campbell, head of leasing and development at Milton Park, added: "We are so supportive of Ed Vaizey's job fair initiative."

"By connecting local employers with those people looking for jobs, we can all play a small part in helping to improve people's lives and our county's economy."

Local employers who wish to attend the job fair should contact Leigh Vaughan at Jobcentre Plus on 01235 703892.

Princess Royal comes to county

PRINCESS Anne paid a visit to Oxford last week, as she attended the openings of Woodstock's Soldiers of Oxfordshire Museum and Oxford University's Kennedy Institute for Rheumatology.

The Princess Royal officially opened the museum last Thursday morning, visiting the range of displays documenting Oxfordshire's role in conflicts over the years.

She then met with volunteers and unveiled a plaque to commemorate the opening at the end of her visit.

Museum chairman Ian Inshaw said: "It was a brilliant visit. She knew exactly what the museum was about, and brought a very good feeling with her."

"The purpose of our museum is to tell the stories of local people in conflict and how the county helped to deal with the conflict the country was involved in."

"One of Princess Anne's comments was to say that with this facility, she wouldn't be surprised if we weren't deluged with local stories."

She then headed into the city to the university's Old Road Campus to open the Kennedy Institute of Rheumatology.

Construction of the £42million facility was completed last year, and is home to around 180 scientists

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

who are studying the causes and treatments for arthritis.

Princess Anne was taken on a tour of the site by then institute director Professor Sir Marc Feldmann and Professor Fiona Powrie, who took over the position yesterday.

Professor Powrie said: "The Kennedy Institute has an incredible track record in both understanding the causes of inflammation and developing novel treatments that can help many patients."

"It's terrific to be able to celebrate these successes with the visit of The Princess Royal."

"And with a new building at Oxford University that really provides the equipment and environment to conduct the best science, we can look forward to many more discoveries in the future."

Euro market

KIDLINGTON: Residents will get to sample a range of European delights tomorrow as a continental market comes to the village.

Traders from France, Spain and Italy will be in High Street with a selection of continental food, including cheeses, confectionary and meats.

The market will run from 9am to 5pm.

Assault sentence

WESTCOT: A 55-year-old man who headbutted another man in Westcot back in January was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court last Friday.

Graham Wright, of Blacklands, Sparsholt, was sentenced to four months in prison, suspended for 18 months, for the attack in Westcot Lane on January 11.

He was also ordered to pay £1,000 in compensation.

Dogs' delight

CHERWELL: The district council's service which cares for lost and homeless dogs in the area has been given its second RSPCA Gold Award in as many years.

Between May 2013 and May 2014, the council's dog warden service picked up 169 lost or stray dogs and provided 826 free dog tags to owners.

Senior dog warden Neil Greenway said: "Our staff work hard so it is fantastic to have these efforts recognised."

Fans hear chairman's ambitions for United OXFORD United chairman Darryl Eales told a fans forum last week that he is having positive discussions with regard to owning the Kassam Stadium.

About 200 fans turned out for last Thursday's fans forum where supporters asked questions of Mr Eales, chief executive Mark Ashton and head coach Michael Appleton.

The trio answered questions for 90 minutes with topics ranging from stadium ownership, team selection, financial matters and the matchday experience.

Mr Eales was asked whether he had been in talks with businessman Firoz Kassam about buying the stadium.

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

He said: "We have begun to build a better and more trusting relationship with the stadium operator."

"We are trying to produce a win/win situation with Kassam to benefit the football club."

Mr Eales continued: "We want to own the stadium to drive the commercial side and in the meantime build a relationship with Kassam so we both make money."

"Michael Doyle (general manager of the Kassam Stadium) and the stadium company (Firoka) have been excellent since we arrived."

"We ask them questions and they respond."

However, Mr Eales added that "property" was not why he was at Oxford United and said he would "provide funds for the club to compete in the Championship" – two leagues above United's current league status.

He continued: "I'm not here to make money."

It was the first fans forum since the trio arrived at the Sky Bet League Two club in July and the evening was not all one-way traffic.

Mr Eales and Mr Ashton asked fans questions about ticket prices, matchday music, whether the away fans should be moved to another area of the ground and having games on Fridays.

The breakdown of the club's ownership was also revealed for the first time at the forum.

Mr Eales said 51 per cent of the club belongs to company ENSCO, which he owns 86 per cent of and former chairman Ian Lenagan owns 12 per cent.

He added: "The club is being funded by me so I'm the only person to blame if funding is not there."

Mayor of Didcot

Busy month for the mayor

AS I sit down to write this the sun is shining brightly and it is hard to believe that winter is just around the corner and that I have completed a third of my year as mayor.

I have been busy this month, with the Meadows fete, which was a brilliant opportunity to meet with some of the residents and hear their stories.

Other events included the opening of the new B&M store where I had the opportunity to meet staff and shoppers. The following day I was delighted to start the 10k race around the Earth Trust nature reserve.

I have been busy at the Railway Centre as usual. I took part in the Victorian Day where many of us dressed up in Victorian style clothes.

Everyone had a good time and reminded me of why I chose to raise money for the Railway Centre during my year as mayor.

I have happy memories of visiting the Railway Centre as a boy. I hope to raise enough money during the year to buy some themed play equipment to make a visit to the centre even more fun for kids.

To raise funds for this project I will be hosting an evening of live music at the Conservative Club on Friday, October 3.

Two fantastic local bands will provide the music and all the profits will go towards the purchase of play equipment.

Tickets can be purchased at Didcot Town Council's information centre - I hope to see many local people there to share a good night out.

Bus routes in county under threat in review

OVER 30 bus services in South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse are under review by Oxfordshire County Council.

The county council is currently consulting on subsidised bus routes with contracts that expire at the end of May 2015.

Changes including expanding, retaining and decreasing the services are being considered with the consultation process ending on November 15.

The Abingdon to Cumnor route via Wootton, an evening and Sunday service, is likely to be withdrawn.

Service 38, which runs from Grove to Childrey via Wantage and Letcombe, could be changed.

Various options for the Wantage to Childrey section of the route are under consideration, including retention of the existing route and enhancing the town service to half-hourly.

Meanwhile, the Drayton St. Leonard to Abingdon service, which stops at Long Whittenham and Appleford, could be cut to one day a week.

And the Service 97 from Wallingford to Didcot could be terminated at Berinsfield as Wallingford already has a direct service to Didcot.

Merger proposal for city hospice

OXFORD-BASED children's hospice Helen & Douglas House has appointed a new chief executive in anticipation of potentially teaming up with Winchester's Naomi House.

Chris Robinson took over from the retiring Tom Hill yesterday, and will be chief executive for an interim one-year period while a merger between the two hospices is considered.

It is hoped that a collaboration between the two hospices would lead to improved and more sustainable care for children and families.

"I think any change would have to justify itself in terms of improved care for children and families," said Mr Robinson, who is also the chief executive of Naomi House.

"It seems to me the criteria is can we provide better care and can we provide more sustainable care."

"If there isn't any way to secure those benefits from any of the things that come up for consideration, we won't do it."

"It's an opportunity to identify if we could do even better by collaborating together in some way, so we'll see what comes out of it."

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The idea of a collaboration between the two hospices has been discussed for the last two years.

Mr Robinson added that no timescale has been set for any collaboration, but some changes such as joint training could be made straight away.

He added that more substantial decisions may need longer discussion.

Elizabeth Drew, chair of Helen & Douglas House's board of trustees, said: "Tom's retirement created an exciting opportunity to explore the potential for closer collaboration between the two charities."

"We are continually striving to improve the quality and reach of our services and improve our sustainability."

"This project will help us assess how we could do this by working more closely with Naomi House."

The hospice's deputy chief executive Clare Edwards will take over the day-to-day running of Helen & Douglas House during the interim period.

New charity to support kids with parents in jail

CHILDREN with parents in prison should be seen and heard – that is the message from a new Oxfordshire charity that launched this summer.

Charity Children Heard and Seen offers support to young people to ensure they do not follow their parent into prison.

It received charitable status earlier this year after raising above and beyond the £5,000 needed.

Cara Longsord, trustee and co-founder of the charity, said: "There is nothing out there that offers targeted support for these children.

"At the moment, these children are forgotten and not heard or seen.

"We want to hear their voices help them and support them."

She added: "We also do parent support and mentoring and other interventions.

"We want to be able to reach out to parents, let them know we are here and we can help."

Trustees of the charity say children with a mum or dad in prison are more likely to experience poverty, mental ill health, poor housing, and have below average school attendance.

At the beginning of this year, Children Heard and Seen raised just under £11,000 through a crowdfunding campaign – well over the £5,000 needed to register with the Charity Commission.

The money has gone towards recruitment, training, and the supervision of mentors to provide one-to-one support to children and young people and access to community sports and clubs.

Oxfordshire Fire & Rescue, Thames Valley Police, Early Intervention Service and HM Bullingdon Prison are supporters of the charity.

Portraits of women showcased

AN OXFORD University college marked the anniversary of 40 years of coeducation by transforming its dining hall.

Hertford College's dining room, which is usually home to a portrait gallery of all-male luminaries, now contains a collection of 21 female fellows and alumni and will do so for the next 12 months.

The portraits feature philosopher Baroness Warnock, rower Stephanie Cullen and broadcaster Natasha Kaplinsky.

Hertford was one of five Oxford colleges that became fully coeducational in 1974 and was the first to do so.

Dr Emma Smith, fellow and lecturer in English at Hertford, coordinated the project.

She said: "Marking the coeducation anniversary gave us the opportunity to make a big statement about the range of careers and lives our students, both women and men, go into."

Dr Smith continued: "It's not just that our previous portraits were all of men, but more that they represented a narrow definition of achievement, and a very hierarchical one.

"Our new portraits show that we are as proud of unsung achievement and of potential as we are of high office or salary."

The gallery was unveiled at the Cattle Street college on September 20 and includes women from every decade of coeducation.

What's on in OXFORDSHIRE | NEWS

Alan Davies

IF you don't know anything about Alan Davies already, you certainly will after this weekend.

The comedian and actor comes to Oxford's New Theatre on Sunday with his new show 'Little Victories'.

QI and Jonathan Creek star Alan began stand-up in 1988 and after a prolonged hiatus is back in Oxford for his second tour in the space of two years.

The dad-of-two and devoted Arsenal fan returned to stand-up in 2012 with his 'Life Is Pain' tour, and is now back on the road with 'Little Victories'.

Alan admitted the overwhelming positive response to 'Life Is Pain' was "gratifying" and hopes the public will come flooding back to see him.

"There are people that remember me as a stand-up from the '90s but the majority of people didn't know what I was going to be like," he said.

"I'm hoping they will come back for the new tour or they might stay away and think 'my god, he's awful', we'll find out."

The 48-year-old says 'Little Victories' is all about his experiences as a parent, son and husband and hopes there is something in his material for everyone.

"It's quite personal this one and you will find out a fair bit about me and my family life," he said.

"But what I am trying to do is relate to anybody who is a son, a parent, a partner, or at school, there is something in it for everyone.

"It's quite nice to do an honest, straight-forward show where I tell true stories and try and make the audience laugh if I can."

Alan started stand-up at 22 and despite various acting roles, including playing supernatural mystery solver Jonathan Creek for 17 years, says comedy is his true love.

"I always wanted to do comedy as a teenager and have always loved it and I like hearing laughter," he said.

"It's nice to still be doing it - you always think one day somebody's going to slap you on the shoulder and say 'you've had your go', but I'm still going."

He added: "One of my favourite shows on the last tour was at the New Theatre; it is a great venue."

"There's a good atmosphere in there and when you tour you get all sorts of funny places - civic halls, modern theatres of different shapes and sizes - so it's nice to have an actual theatre to play."

Tickets cost up to £43.40 for the 8pm show at the George Street theatre.

Celebrations

AN AUCTION and music night next Friday will continue celebrations of Chipping Norton Theatre's 40th anniversary.

The evening will be hosted by former One Show and current ITV Sport presenter Adrian Chiles with the music by FB Pocket Orchestra.

The October 10 event starts at 7pm with tickets costing £5 with a complementary glass of champagne.

Swingin' Sixties

A SENSATIONAL Sixties experience at Oxford's New Theatre tomorrow will kick off at 7.30pm.

Six big names of the decade including Herman's Hermits, The Swinging Blue Jeans, Dave Berry, The Union Gapuk, The Ivy League and Alan Mosca from Freddie and The Dreamers will all be making an appearance.

Tickets start from £25.50.

Feminism and funny

COLOURFUL and bubbly comedienne Bridget Christie is to bring Didcot's Cornerstone to life with laughter tomorrow during her two-part show, 'A Bic for Her/An Ungrateful Woman'.

The 43-year-old from Gloucester rose to fame in 2013, with her multi-award winning BBC Radio 4 show, 'Bridget Christie Minds the Gap' about feminism.

'A Bic for Her' was a sell out at the Edinburgh Festival in 2013, while 'An Ungrateful Woman' followed suit this year, selling out before it started.

Christie has covered various topics which many tend to avoid, including feminism - one of the main topics.

However, the funny woman wants to reassure her audience and her fans, that not everything in the show will be serious.

"I'm fully aware that some of the subject matter, especially some of the more serious issues, might not fit in with a lot of people's idea of a night's entertainment," she said.

"However, I'd like to reassure any potential punters that there will be jokes, funny walks and many different types of amusing facial expressions to keep things ticking along."

DRIVEWAY RENOVATION

We also provide a block driveway renovation service. If you have a driveway that's looking a little worse for wear, and you don't want to go the whole way and replace it, simply give us a call and we can come and restore it to its former glory.

We employ a simple three stage renovation process when restoring driveways - clean, sand and seal. The first stage is a straightforward cleaning of your driveway, removing any accumulated grime and rejuvenating the paving. After this, we sweep sand across your driveway to fill the grooves between the blocks, restoring the evenness and uniformity of your driveway. Finally, when renovating non-permeable driveways, we apply a waterproofing sealant, which aids and abets water runoff and drainage.

Client testimonial July 2014

"Would highly recommend. From Darren giving us the quote right through to the completion, we were kept informed and updated. The team are very hard working, polite and attentive of your requirements. The difference the work has made, makes the front of our house so much better and lots of neighbours have commented on how hard the guys worked and what a great job they have done."

Oxfordshire company partners with NHS to launch new Specialised Ability Centre in Manchester

IN a 'first' for the sector, Opicare, part of the Oxfordshire-based Ability Matters Group, opened its new Specialised Ability Centre, which it owns and runs in partnership with the UHSM (University Hospitals South Manchester) NHS Trust.

Andy Burnham, Shadow Health Secretary and local MP for the area opened the building and spent time viewing the new facilities, talking to patients and learning about the service. Commenting on the innovative model, he stated: 'It's great to see a partnership between the NHS and the private sector. I'm pleased to see this partnership bringing in innovation and working for the benefit of the people who will be treated here'.

The idea for the project came about when Ability Matters Group CEO, Michael O'Byrne, saw an opportunity to address the challenges of providing a modern service from an aging NHS facility by purchasing a new building for the centre. 'Patients require a life-long service from this facility and we were delighted to be able to provide a building with improved access, free parking, increased space and better facilities for patients and staff alike. By working in true partnership with the local NHS Trust, UHSM, we were able to deliver this building in a fraction of the time and cost that it would have otherwise taken'.

WIN tickets to see Private Peaceful at COMMEMORATING the 100th year anniversary of World War One, Private Peaceful relives the life of Private Tommo Peaceful, a young soldier awaiting the firing squad at dawn.

During the night he looks back at his short but joyful past growing up in rural Devon: his exciting first days at school; the accident in the forest that killed his father; his adventures with Molly, the love of his life; and the battles and injustices of war that brought him to the front line.

Winner of the Blue Peter Book of the Year, Private Peaceful is by third Children's Laureate, Michael Morpurgo. His inspiration came from a visit to Ypres where he was shocked to discover how many young soldiers were court-martialled and shot for cowardice during the First World War.

'Private Peaceful at the theatre is a moving experience that not only tells the story of a young soldier's final day in World War One, but perhaps more importantly conveys the strength of human spirit.' Michael Morpurgo

Car giant's latest sporty number brimming with style and ready to launch next year Land Rover's newest model

IN 1948, Great Britain was introduced to a brand new car manufacturer based around the Jeep which was used during World War II - the Land Rover.

And 66 years on, the car has gone through many models such as the Range Rover, the Land Rover Defender and the Land Rover Discovery.

To follow on from their successes, the UK-based manufacturer has announced a new Discovery Sport to be released in the early stages of 2015.

The Discovery Sport will be the first member of a new Discovery family.

Gerry McGovern, Land Rover's design director and Chief Creative Officer said: "Our challenge has been to combine premium design with exceptional versatility; the two attributes must work in harmony."

"I'm proud to say we've achieved that; Discovery Sport's dynamic design will resonate on an emotional level with consumers, and this vehicle is more versatile than any other premium compact SUV on the market."

It will be equipped with the powerful and refined 2.2 litre SD4 turbo-diesel engine producing 190 PS.

REVIEW: Land Rover Discovery Sport
By James Richings

This will also feature stop-start technology, high-pressure direct injection, low-friction internal components and smart regenerative charging for outstanding performance and economy.

Both nine-speed automatic and six-speed manual transmissions will be available.

Later in 2015, a highly efficient two wheel drive eD4 turbo-diesel engine will join the range with CO2 emissions from just 119g/km.

A service plan will be available from launch in the UK, offering five years or 50,000 miles worth of servicing - whichever is sooner - at an approved service centre, for a one-off fee of £499.

A host of innovations have allowed Discovery Sport to introduce the versatility of 5+2 seating into the premium compact SUV class for the first time.

An all-new multi-link rear axle not only provides engaging driving dynamics but it also provides ample and flexible cabin space behind the second row.

Coupled with supple long-travel suspension, the innovative rear axle also ensures the Discovery Sport is comfortable, refined and rewarding to drive on-road, while retaining the breadth of all-terrain capability for which Land Rover is world-renowned.

Safety has been one key priority in the development of the Discovery Sport, with a first-in-class pedestrian airbag, emergency braking, and a body shell with both ultra-high-strength steel and lightweight aluminium.

And the advanced technology is put to its uses with a new all-new eight-inch touch screen infotainment system, and standard tilt-and-slide row-two seating for maximum interior configurability.

When the vehicle is due for release early next year, prices will range from under £30,000 for eD4 variant up to £32,395 (SD4) from January 2015.

Welsh urged to bounce back after fourth loss

LONDON Welsh forward Ben Pienaar says he and his teammates need to stand up and puff their chests out if they are to record their first win of the season this weekend.

The Exiles take on Harlequins in the Aviva Premiership on Saturday after suffering a fourth-successive heavy defeat last Friday.

Gloucester ran in five tries at the Kassam Stadium to beat Welsh 46-10, but for 40 minutes the Exiles played some of their best rugby this season.

However, the second half proved pivotal once again with Gloucester scoring four tries as the floodgates swung open.

Pienaar, who crossed the whitewash for the Exiles last weekend, said it is now time for he and his teammates to stand tall.

He said: "We have got to just put our heads down and work as hard as we can. What has happened is maybe we lose concentration for one or two phases and that is when we are punished."

"As soon as they start scoring tries the boys' heads drop and there is a little bit of 'oh no, we are here again'."

The 28-year-old added: "Whenever that happens we are always going to go downhill.

"Come this week, if for whatever reason it happens again we just have to stand up, puff our chests out and fight even harder to get a score back and bring a win home."

While Welsh head into this weekend bottom of the league after four-straight defeats, Quins are also struggling for form after last week's 36-13 loss to Exeter Chiefs.

And after 60 minutes of positive rugby against Gloucester, Pienaar feels Welsh are making progress.

However, the former Leicester Tigers' man said last Friday's capitulation was tougher to take after an improved showing.

He added: "It is difficult when you perform for so long and you are doing so well that come the last 20 minutes it all goes downhill."

"The thing is we know where we have gone wrong and what we need to improve on and hopefully come Saturday against Harlequins we can turn it around."

Early exit from FA Cup for City

OXFORD City were dumped out of the FA Cup in the second qualifying round last weekend as they were beaten 2-1 by Division One South & West side Shortwood United.

Adi Yussuf gave City the lead on 32 minutes but second half strikes from Adam Price and Tim Haddock saw the underdogs advance.

Justin Merritt's side are now without a victory in their last two games and will look to return to winning ways this weekend when they make the trip to Colwyn Bay on Saturday.

City are currently fifth in the Conference North and four points behind league leaders AFC Fylde, while Colwyn Bay are 11th and unbeaten in their last five.

Just before last week's FA Cup defeat, Merritt made two additions to his side.

Ex-Burton Albion goalkeeper Freddy Hall put pen to paper and played against Shortwood, while Marlon Jackson also featured as a second half substitute.

Elsewhere, Oxford City Ladies advanced to the second qualifying round of the FA Women's Cup last Sunday with a 3-0 win over Banbury United at the Spencer Stadium.

They have been handed an away tie at Poole Town in the next round on October 12.

Burnell bemoans squad's errors in the second half

JUSTIN Burnell cut a frustrated figure after London Welsh went down to a fourth consecutive defeat of the season with a 46-10 loss to Gloucester last Friday.

The Exiles produced their best rugby of the season for the first 40 minutes but a flurry of penalties and a yellow card for Taione Vea led to their undoing.

And not dissimilar to recent weeks, Welsh went onto concede four tries in the final 10 minutes after two points separated the sides at half-time.

Burnell said: "First half we saw that commitment and we saw that direction, but the game just completely changed."

"That's our job now to sit down and analyse that."

"At 12-10 at half-time we were more than in the game and then crucial decisions, and not just by ourselves."

"If you're constantly getting penalised you will have a tendency to stand off a lot, hence then the errors will occur."

"What people will look at is the final score, and I've no problem with that. What we have to do is play for 80 minutes."

The Exiles face Harlequins on Saturday but will be without the injured quartet of Richard Thorpe, Tim Molenaar, Peter Browne and Seb Stegmann.

PREMIERSHIP RUGBY IN OXFORD - BE PART OF IT

U's back in relegation zone after Luton loss

MICHAEL Appleton said Oxford United were simply not good enough as they slipped back into the relegation zone with a 2-0 defeat at Luton Town last Saturday.

Luke Wilkinson headed the Hatters ahead after just 80 seconds before Jake Howells secured the win, tapping home after George Long had saved his second half penalty.

The defeat ended United's five-match unbeaten run in Sky Bet League Two and leaves them second from bottom in the table.

And Appleton, United's head coach, is disappointed two set pieces undid his side at Kenilworth Road.

He said: "It is very difficult as a coach to defend the players when you concede from set plays.

"It becomes almost an individual responsibility as well as collective responsibility and it is the basics of the game.

"We are not talking about being opened up and the team having plenty of possession and hurting and damaging us and getting into dangerous areas.

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"We are talking about a ball going into our box and just doing the basics and we have not done that well enough and it has cost us."

Wilkinson rose unmarked to head Howells' freekick past Long inside the second minute, but United were far from out of the game.

Callum O'Dowda tested Mark Tyler from range, Brian Howard fired wide, while Tyrone Barnett had United's best chance but he headed past the post from six yards.

The U's paid the price as Danny Hylton was penalised for handball in the area and despite Long saving Howells' spotkick the ball rebounded kindly into the path of the Luton man.

Appleton added: "People will say it doesn't matter what you do between both boxes and in reality a lot of the time that is true, it is just what your belief is and where you think you should be going as a football club.

"But I am certainly not going to shy away from the fact that in the final third and in our attacking box we have to do better.

"We made poor decisions.

"We shot when we should have crossed, we put crosses in where we probably should have gone and beaten the final defender, and the final passing around the edge of the box was not good enough."

He continued: "You can rant until you are blue in the face but at the end of the day the facts are we did not do the basics well enough.

"I can moan about certain players and without a shadow of a doubt our attacking players were not good enough.

"We worked the ball into them numerous times and gave them loads of opportunities to break Luton down and we weren't good enough."

United are next in action on Saturday when they welcome Welsh side Newport County to the Kassam Stadium.

Big win for Kidlington

KIDLINGTON enjoyed an emphatic win in the Hellenic Premier Division on Tuesday night, as they thrashed Wootton Bassett Town 5-0 at home.

Ryan Curtin scored twice in the opening eight minutes to give the hosts the advantage, before Tommy Castle and Jack Quainton added to the total, with Curtin completing his hat-trick with a penalty in the second half.

But it was a disappointing night for Ardley United, who were beaten 4-2 at Wilks Park by Flackwell Heath.

Flackwell took the lead through Jamie Hanscombe, before Ricky Johnson grabbed an equaliser for Ardley to get them back in the match.

Luke Ingram managed to put Ardley in the lead, but it didn't last as Flackwell scored three times in the second half to secure the win.

Elsewhere, Milton United were able to beat Brimscombe and Thrupp 4-1, while Thame were defeated 3-1 by Binfield.

Oxford City Nomads faced Cheltenham Saracens at home last night as the Guardian went to press.

Oxfordshire's teams are in FA Vase action this weekend, with Carterton travelling to Brimscombe and Thrupp, Chinnor hosting Henley Town, and Milton United away to Farnham Town.

Hook Norton face Tadley Calleva, Thame are against New College, and Nomads play Slimbridge.

Two wins keeps Plato in BTCC title running

JASON Plato kept his slim British Touring Car Championship title hopes alive as he won two races out of three at Silverstone on Sunday.

The Oxford-based driver overtook title rival Colin Turkington in both the first and second races to take his fourth and fifth victories of the season.

He followed up the results with a fourth place in the final race, to leave himself 50 points behind Turkington going into the final round at Brands Hatch.

But with just 67 points left to play for, Plato isn't optimistic about his chances.

"The championship is realistically gone, but winning races is what it's all about," he said.

"Second is safe in the drivers' standings, there's not a lot I can really do to stop Colin, so it's game on now for wins.

"I was really pleased with my two overtakes on Colin, the second was really pleasing.

"The team gave me the quickest front wheel drive car yet again, and I think we go to Brands looking really good for wins."

The final three races will be held on the Brands Hatch Grand Prix circuit on October 12.

Smith equals his season's best

OXFORD'S Bradley Smith finished an impressive fifth in an enthralling Aragon MotoGP race last Sunday.

The 23-year-old set his sights on a top-five finish in the build-up, but would not have anticipated the drama that unfolded at the Motorland Aragon circuit.

Smith started from 11th on the grid but found himself in 20th at the end of the first lap after taking evasive action to avoid colliding with Valentino Rossi.

The Yamaha Tech3 rider rapidly made amends and reached 11th by lap five, and was in eighth when it began to rain.

On lap 18 he followed fellow Brit Cal Crutchlow, who ended up on the podium, into the pits to swap his bike for a wet set up and stormed to a fifth-placed finish to equal his best result of the season.

Smith said: "It was a great result and I accomplished my ambition of getting into the top five, although the conditions may have helped me.

"It was a tough race and I could have finished even higher still had I not dropped back to 20th on the first lap."

Yamaha Factory rider Jorge Lorenzo won the race, benefiting from world champion Marc Marquez's crash, while Aleix Espargaro and Crutchlow completed the rostrum.

Stars defeated

OXFORD City Stars suffered their fourth defeat in five games in the National Ice Hockey League 1 this season, as they lost 7-3 to Streatham Redskins on Sunday.

Goals from Joshua Florey, Joe Edwards and James Pentecost were not enough for Stars, who conceded three times in the first period alone.

It came after Stars were defeated the previous day in an entertaining match, as they lost 9-6 to London Raiders.

The fixture was notable for manager Darren Elliott's penalty for kicking, who missed the Streatham game through suspension as a result.

Stars will be hoping for better luck in their next fixture, which sees them face Solent Devils at home on Sunday.

'Quins beaten

AN EARLY lead was not enough for Oxford Harlequins, as they eventually succumbed 27-15 to Bracknell in the National League 3 South West on Saturday.

It means that Harlequins are now seventh in the standings with seven points after their first four matches.

There was better luck for Witney in the South West 1 East, as they triumphed 12-5 over Reading to go sixth in the table.

But Grove were beaten 36-27 by Windsor in the same league, and are second bottom in the standings with just two points so far from their current campaign.

All three return to action this weekend, as Harlequins host Hornets, Witney are at home to Chippenham, and Grove travel to Bletchley.

Massa feeling confident

WILLIAMS Martini Racing drivers Felipe Massa and Valtteri Bottas are confident they can continue the team's good form as Formula One heads to Suzuka for the Japanese Grand Prix this weekend.

Massa came fifth at the last race in Singapore, while Bottas was running in the points for the whole race until a tyre problem dropped him down the order in the final laps.

And they are hopeful of adding to their totals at a track both the drivers enjoy.

"Japan is one of the best circuits on the calendar," said Massa. "We have good momentum at the moment and our car will hopefully be better than in Singapore."

"The first sector is amazing and the elevation changes really add to the excitement of the track."

Bottas added: "The high speed corners make it a very special track to drive and a lot of fun."

"For a driver it's quite a challenge with no room for a mistake, but it's fast which just makes it even better to drive."

Bottas is sixth in the drivers' championship standings with 122 points, while Massa is ninth with 65 points.

ZOLDAN PROUD DESPITE LOSS

Abingdon's FA Cup run comes to an end after battling performance

ANDY Zoldan said he was proud of his players after Abingdon United's impressive FA Cup run was ended in the second qualifying round by Dorchester Town last Saturday.

Second half goals from Sam Lanahan and Dan Smith helped the Magpies to a 2-0 win over United on a sunny September afternoon at The Northcourt.

The defeat ended United's run from the extra preliminary round - three wins that earned the club £6,425 in prize money.

Zoldan's men, who are two leagues below Dorchester, were certainly not embarrassed by the Southern League Premier Division club.

And had Kieran Davis buried the game's best chance from 10 yards on 43 minutes, it could have been a different story.

Zoldan said: "I'm chuffed to bits for the lads.

"They are gutted and disappointed but we will have a beer and get over it.

"They should be proud of themselves."

United created the first opportunity of the game after just 40 seconds, but Kevin Rookes could only head Paul Alder's cross straight at Dorchester keeper Alan Walker-Harris.

The visitors dominated in possession and were intent on peppering United's goal with shots from all angles.

before Dan Cann headed wide and Ben Joyce smashed an effort into the side netting.

For all Dorchester's endeavour, it was United who created the best chance of the half on 43 minutes.

Steve Davis broke down the left and his cross was knocked into the path of Kieran Davis by Andy Younie, but the former fired over the bar from 10 yards.

Dorchester continued to press after the break and it was a touch of quality from Lanahan on 54 minutes that gave them the lead.

The Dorchester midfielder picked the ball up 25 yards from goal, cut inside on to his left foot and curled a low shot beyond Zoldan and into the bottom corner.

Lanahan's strike seemed to energise the visitors as United's fitness began to suffer.

The impressive Smith was a threat all game and he burst into the area on 75 minutes only to be brought down from behind by Zoldan.

Smith picked himself up and confidently beat Zoldan from the penalty spot.

United returned to Hellenic Premier Division action on Tuesday night but were beaten 3-2 by Reading Town.

They are currently 16th in the table with seven points.
